

City of Rocksprings Manual on Personnel Policies

For the purposes of this document the City of Rocksprings, Texas, shall be referred to as “City”, the whole body of Personnel Policies shall be referred to as “Personnel Policy”, and the duly elected representatives of the City of Rocksprings, Texas, and serving on the City Council shall be referred to as “City Council”.

| Authority | 1. | All City personnel policies or amendments to the policies shall be approved by the City Council before becoming effective. They shall be reviewed annually at each September meeting. |
| | 2. | The City Council shall have the authority to make decisions and take action in regard to any personnel matters that are not addressed in these policies and that are not regulated by federal, state or local laws. Other contractual or valid agreements whose acknowledgment forms have been signed and filed take precedence over these personnel policies. |
| Policy Changes | 3. | The City Council shall have the authority to add, change, or delete whenever the City Council deems such action necessary or desirable. |
| Deviation | 4. | If it is determined to be in the best interest of the City, the City Council may elect to deviate from any personnel policy, provided that such deviation is not in violation of any federal or state law or any other legally binding agreement. |
| | 5. | Whenever a decision is made to deviate from any written personnel policy of the City, written documentation shall be prepared that explains the reason for the deviation. |
| Severability Clause | 6. | Each personnel policy of the City shall stand alone and not be dependent on any other policy for validity unless specifically stated within the policy. |
| | 7. | If a policy is found to be invalid for any reason it shall not affect the validity or application of any other policy in this manual. |
| Application | 8. | All personnel policies shall apply consistently and uniformly to all City employees unless specifically stated in the individual policy. |
| Not a Contract | 9. | Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute a contract of employment or any part thereof with any employee. If a policy is changed, revised, or not followed in a particular case, any affected employee shall have no legal recourse against the City. Notwithstanding any other provisions herein, all City employees are “employees at will” and the employment relationship can be terminated at any time without penalty by either the employee or the City. |
| City Council | 10. | Any reference in these policies to the City Council shall mean the Rocksprings City Council sitting in an official meeting and no council member shall have the authority to speak for the Council. The Minutes of the City Council shall be conclusive as to determining what action the City Council has taken. |

City of Rocksprings

Policy on Discipline

| Authority | 1. The Mayor shall have the authority to discipline any employee who violates the City’s policies or rules, abuses the benefits or privileges provided by the City, affects the efficient operation of any City function, either through action or inaction, or who brings negative attention to the City. |
| Discipline | 2. Based on the severity of the action, discipline may consist of a verbal reprimand, written reprimand, probation, suspension with or without pay, or termination of employment.

a. Three (3) written reports by a supervisor within a year will result in Council action. |
| Termination | 3. If the Mayor determines that termination is the appropriate discipline, the employee shall be suspended with pay until the City Council can meet, at which meeting the City Council shall vote on the appropriate disciplinary action. A Special Meeting of the City Council may be called for this action. |
| Documentation | 4. The Mayor shall make a written report of any disciplinary action, and shall date and sign such report. The report shall then be provided to the employee who will be requested to sign a statement indicating the employee has received and reviewed the report, and shall be allowed, if the employee wishes, to add written comments to explain the conduct in question. The report shall then be added to the employee’s file, and a copy of the report shall be reviewed by the City Council at its next meeting. |
| Appeal | 5. Any employee or former employee who feels wrongfully disciplined, or discipline more severely than his conduct warranted, may initiate a grievance under the City’s Policy on Grievances to explain the employee’s side of the incident and request that the disciplinary action be set aside, or made less severe. If the employee or former employee appeals the grievance to City Council, the meeting shall be held in accordance with the Texas Open Meetings Law, and the City Council shall decide among the following options:

a. Allow the Mayor’s decision to stand
b. Set aside the Mayor’s decision entirely
c. Amend the Mayor’s decision to provide for less severe disciplinary action. |

- d. Amend the Mayor's decision to provide for more severe disciplinary action.

City of Rocksprings

Policy on Grievances

Grievances

1. A current or former City employee may file a grievance on any term, condition, or activity of employment that the employee or former employee wishes changed, including an act or omission of another employee, Council Member, Mayor or Mayor ProTem. A current or former employee must initiate the grievance process within 15 days of the occurrence of the term, condition or activity the employee or former employee wishes changed, except for “Whistleblower” claims of which a grievance must be initiated no later than the 90th day after the occurrence.
2. Matters over which the City Council has no control, such as requirements of the Federal or Texas State law, shall not be considered grounds for a grievance.

Grievance Procedure

3. Grievances shall be handled in accordance with the following procedures:
 - A. The employee or former employee shall informally discuss the grievance with the employee’s supervisor or former supervisor stating the nature of the grievance and the action expected to resolve the grievance. Within three working days of the initial discussion the supervisor shall provide the employee with a decision as to whether the employee or former employee should proceed with the grievance. If the decision is not satisfactory to the employee or former employee or if no decision is received within three working days, the employee or former employee may proceed to the next step within five working days.
 - B. If the employee or former employee is not satisfied with the result in Step A, the employee or former employee may present a written statement of the grievance, along with a statement of the action desired to resolve the grievance, to the Mayor. If the Mayor is the subject of the grievance, the employee or former employee may present the written statement of the grievance, along with a statement of the action desired to resolve the grievance, to the Mayor ProTem. The Mayor, or Mayor ProTem when applicable, shall review the facts of the grievance and provide the employee with a written response within five working days. If the response is not satisfactory, or if no response is received within five working days, the employee may proceed to the next step within five working days.

C. If the employee or former employee is not satisfied with the result of Step B, the employee or former employee may present a written statement of the grievance, along with a statement of the action desired to resolve the grievance, to the City Council. The City Council may meet with the employee or former employee, other involved individuals, or take other steps necessary to obtain information on the facts of the grievance in conformance with the Open Meetings Act. The City Council may also designate a representative to meet with the employee or former employee, other involved individuals or take other steps necessary to obtain information on the facts of the grievance. The Council's designee shall present a report to City Council that includes the facts made basis of the grievance. The City Council shall provide the employee or former employee with a decision concerning the grievance at the meeting the Council considers the grievance or the following City Council meeting. The decision of the City Council is final.

|--------------------------|----|---|
